J35 update: "the ordeal of J35 carrying her dead calf for at least seventeen days and 1,000 miles is now over, thank goodness."

-Ken Balcomb, Center for Whale Research

Björk's work articulates a celebration of and continuity of humans with the natural world. Imagery of the physical and animal natural world abounds in the music videos and lyrics of her solo career: volcanic and winter landscapes, the sea, and animals. Björk performs the continuity between human and animal, human and physical, self and other.

"MOUTH'S CRADLE"

there is yet another one that follows me
wherever i go
and supports me
this tooth is warmth-like and these teeth are a ladder up to his mouth

these teeth are a ladder
that i walk
that you can walk too if you want
if you want up to the mouth
the mouth's cradle
up to the mouth's cradle

he always has a hope for
me
always sees me when nothing else
and everyone have left
that ghost is brighter
than anyone
and fulfills me with hope those beams assure me

and you can use these tee-th as a ladder

the mouth's cradle
and you can follow these notes i'm singing
the mouth's cradle

the simplicity of the
ghost-like beast
the purity of what it
wants and where it goes always love, always loves
you,
always loves you
infrared love

and you can use these
teeth
follow my voice
tooth by tooth

i need a shelter to build an altar away
from all osamas and bushes

"MY JUVENILE"

down the corridor
i send warmth
down the staircase

thank you for again
to get to be able to send warmth
perhaps i set you too free
too fast
too young

but the intentions were
pure

i truly say

you are my biggest love
i clumsily tried to free
you from me
one last embrace to tie a sacred ribbon

this is an offer to better the last let go

the intentions were pure

"I SEE WHO YOU ARE"

behind the skin and the muscles
and when you'll get older
later

i will see the same girl
the same soul
lioness fireheart
passionate lover

and afterwards
later this century
when you and i have become corpses

let's celebrate now all
this flesh on our bones
let me push you up against
me
tightly

me
